There are different elements that could impact the Fund performance such as changes in market, economic, political, currency exchange and type of individual equities however the Fund will aim to reduce such risks through diversifying the fund investment over different GCC equity markets, sectors and companies.

ue of the Fund's underlying investments and the income derived from them may fall as well as rise and Investors may not recoup the original amount invested in the Fund. Higher long-term equity returns are associated with higher volatility; the risk inherent in equity investing is higher than that in other types of investment instruments such as Murabaha and other short term investments.

B. Shariah Investment Risk

This is the risk of limiting the investment to only Shariah compliant companies; wish includes the risk of disposition of non Shariah compliant companies during unfavourable market conditions or concentrating the Fund portfolio in limited number of Shariah compliant companies only in order to comply with the Fund's Shariah guidelines.

G. Interest Rate Risk

This is the risk that the value of financial instruments will fluctuate due to a change in interest rates. Accordingly, the value of securities and the companies' stock prices may be affected favourably or unfavourably.

H. Liquidity Risk

Liquidity of investments may be low in some periods and as a result this may increase the difficulty of valuing such investments. Reduced market liquidity may adversely affect the market price of the Fund's investments and the Fund's ability to dispose of particular investments to meet its liquidity requirements. This risk may be mitigated through utilizing the available cash portion of the Fund. However if total redemptions exceeds 10% of the Fund's Value, the Manager has the right to postpone such redemptions to the next Valuation Day. Such redemptions will be accounted for on a prorated basis.

An investment in this fund is not a deposit with any local bank sponsoring, selling, or otherwise affiliated with the investment fund. Unit holders bear a risk of loss of money in the investment fund, since the investment value may increase or decrease. Investors in the Fund are not certain to make a profit and may suffer a loss, and therefore may not recover their fully-invested capital.
